You guys are really misinformed. There has been scientific proof of transgender brains and that trans guys (FtM) brains align more with a biological mans brains than a woman’s, vice versa with trans women. Benton literally has a brain that aligns more with a males.	Transgender	Transexuality	1/45	2.222

He is so handsome, but now I know I watched some videos regarding woman convert their gender to Male I noticed that one of the effect of T is having a lot of hairs, sooooo.. if going to date with men I will ask them to take off their shirt and see their chest downward, if I'm not convinced oh my gosh! I will check the penis! LoL	Woman	Gender	1/69	1.449
I love how 99 of the comment section is obsessed with his gender and is dogmatically telling him what he is or isn't. Why do you fucking people give a shit? Get a life.	Gender	Gender	1/34	2.941

Have you thought about where your spiritual body goes after Death? Why would you choose to end up burning in Hell? Think about it because believe me 100 there is a strict Judgment of God after death. (Hebrews 9:27) I urge you to choose the fear of God and repent. Please, go to a deliverance ministry in your area so they can pray for you, and go back to your original gender before it is too late...	Gender	Gender	1/77	1.299

How old are people in the comment section. Just curious	Old	Over 65s	1/10	10.0
These negative people in the comments really don't understand how it feels to be in the wrong body. They don't know what it's like to wake up everyday feeling awful, and uncomfortable in your own body. For those people I want to say congrats. You don't feel this way and I want to feel what you are feeling, it feels like you're wearing an embarrassing costume everyday and it fucking sucks. Yes, biology you are born with the gender you are born with, but new flash this change. If other people in the world can be happy with who they are, then why can't we transgender people be happy with ourselves. Think before you hurt someone's feelings. And if you disagree, well do you boo and have a great life.	Transgender	Transexuality	1/130	0.769

Science has proven that transgender males have brains that align more with a biological mans brain, vice versa with trans women. He's a guy.	Transgender	Transexuality	1/24	4.167

Alot of people are saying that you will always be a female. Here is my opinion on this subject. Throughout the past 10,000 years it has been determined that sex is not an interchangeable feature. In the absence of modern science people who believed this were absolutely right, but now we have the science to make a person's sex interchangeable. If a person is able to replace their reproductive and endocrine systems (or whatever other systems are associated with sex) with those of the opposite sex then it's factually correct to state that they have successfully changed sexes. You are a male and anyone who tries to deny that is wrong. I'm a guy btw and I feel like it is a ton better than being a woman. I don't have to deal with so many dirty and painful experiences and I fully support your decision to become a man. Congrats bro	Woman	Gender	1/152	0.658

Imagine a transgender guy comes up to me looking like a woman and presenting himself like a proper woman. Had hormonal treatment and all. Comes up to me and starts flirting. I have no fucking clue what a real woman is anymore. And not to be rude or anything. But I like my women fertile. And not men with inverted penises and testicles. As not being able to have children is a real deal stopper to many men. I have a huge fucking problem with trannies because they think they can go to the dating market as if they were the opposite gender, when in reality they are being dishonest from the get go. When dating, a transexual needs to say what they were born like to avoid problems when things get intimate. If we can bypass this big issue for me, then we can agree, they can be called whatever the fuck they want. (as long as it's she or he, I won't be using made up words for made up genders )	Transgender	Transexuality	1/173	0.578
Man O' War I see what you're saying, its actually SJWs that have made up these fake genders and not the actual transgender male to female or female to male as they just want to live as the binary gender male or female. Actual trans are not SJW, its pretty sad that these SJW have made the trans community toxic. It has brainwashed how you view it.	Transgender	Transexuality	1/67	1.493

the amount of negative comments is fucking insane, and you all wonder why so many trans people kill themselves. he, nor any other trans person, is bothering you by being themselves. ive had friends in the past who are trans and every single one of them says that theyre just like us, they were just born in the wrong body. try and put yourself in their shoes, you know? you know that you or a boy or a girl. you know that. you are sure of that. now imagine being so sure that youre a boy, but you were born with a vagina instead of a penis. do you know how incredibly frustrating that must be? give the guy a fucking break, hes been through more shit (and made it out alive and well) than your pussy asses could ever EVER handle.	pussy	Chinese	1/142	0.704

Hey! I just wanted to take a moment, after reading all these comments and tell you that the decisions you made, were in my opinion, are very brave. I am sure you have been told a million times or heard a million negative things in regards to the changes you have made in your life. After reading some of the comments, I felt sick. I have a friend who went through this same process and it was an amazing experience watching him become himself, and find happiness, who is now married to a wonderful women! Although, I do not exactly understand what it is to feel like I am in the wrong body, or born the wrong gender - I can only imagine - I have great respect for you taking these steps to become the person you intended to be. While you may believe you will eventually be able to fit in as a man, you will realize that this dream is futile. Men and women are not blank slates learned by society to act the way we do, we are two very dimorphic genders that have patterns and brainwaves that makes us unique. I can tell you're emotional, I can smell your female way of being as a groundwork for who you are, and this will never go away. This is especially obvious in male - female surgery. It's easy to spot a male to female transperson, you can sense him from far away. This begs the question, is it better to be a rejected man than a real woman who deep down inside wants to be a boy. Why do you think transpeople suicide rates are so high, when they change they will never fit in, and once they have they can never change back. One of the prominent mental illnesses in the 1st world society. Nu em a gey ev en doh i bern a gerl. Disgusting, you fools parading and cheering on these mentally challenged and pain inflicted individuals should be ashamed of yourselves. We need to help these people understand the reality of things, taking testosterone to look like a man, even when you are a girl should not be the celebrated phenomenon it is the media and western countries. Homosexuals probably wouldn't care, but people like this will start attracting heterosexuals, and in the case of men, things can become pretty violent. A man finding out his girlfriend is a estrogen induced biological male could become a very dangerous situation.	Mental	Physical (and Mental) Impairments	1/119	0.84
ArthaxtaDaVince777 I m sorry, but do you not think the person that needs the mental health check is you? Why in the world would any situation like that (in where a man dating a woman that they later found out to be transgender) end up violently? Violence is not the answer and there should be absolutely nothing dangerous about a situation like that. I absolutely can t believe how shockingly horrific your comment is. Even if a situation ends up in something that may frustrate or anger you, violence absolutely should never be involved. You are the last person who should have any right calling others disgusting and mentally challenged. The disappointment in humanity is you.	Transgender	Transexuality	1/114	0.877

Blank Blank You shouldn't be sorry, so that's your first major problem, handing out sorry's when there is no need for one. I need a mental health check because I consider the fact that a fake woman sleeping with a biological male can turn violent? Did I suggest it should turn violent, or simply that it will, naturally? It turns out to be the latter, now what the hell does that have to do with my mental health, you cretin? You libtard progressives fully present your illogical thoughts and opinions in all their infamous tyranny. A man dating or even sleeping with a fake woman could easily turn violent, this man was taken advantage of by another man who tricked him into buying his female appearance. This can be considered rape, do you understand that? And in the right circumstances, even a decent man can go ape shit and harm or kill this fake woman that tricked him. The same goes for fake men that trick biological women, there are many transgender deaths that occur due to these problems, but of course not all the time. When did I say violence is the answer? And that is bullshit, toddler logic. If violence wasn't the answer, we wouldn't have established militaries across the world to defend our countries, and police in the streets to uphold the law and protect the civilians. I call them for what they are, a man is a man, a woman is a woman, if one changes their appearance artificially to sate their mental state and their paranoia, then yes, that is disgusting. A man that is now a woman, is disgusting. A woman that is now a man, is disgusting. You don't think so? You think its great? Fine, that's your opinion, just don't pretend like you are the golden standard of acceptance and moral understanding when you decide to cheer on these mentally deranged	Transgender	Transexuality	1/414	0.242

Not here to hate but you can t just become a male... your a biological female and so just because you take testosterone doesn t make you a male sorry it just doesn t work that way you still have cells of a female in your body they don t go to far Some transgender people make me sick because what they do is try to change who they are both physically and mentally because they don t feel right the way they were born but they put themselves farther away from fitting in because they break away from who they really are... Who they really are is what gender they feel the most comfortable in - They're more themselves in the gender they want to be. Also, what do you think makes somebody a certain gender? You missed my point however, The rates in witch trans people kill themselves does not change Pre or after hormones and surgery, Meaning its not effective at anything in the vast majority of cases. As well as costing tax payers a large amount of money for cosmetic/Non necessary surgery. Giving someone who is mentally Ill the ability to change their body is not a good idea. And i refuse to believe something that comes with a minimum of 50 mortality rate is not an illness. that 50 comes from the best cases btw. They need help, not a knife. and sure as fucking hell not a knife under 21.	Witch	Female age and physical appearance	1/117	0.855

FeedMeSalt because changing sexual organs on a teenager in a way that can never be undone is harmless right? This can be said for any cosmetic surgery really. It's their decision after all. It's not as black and white as you think. Because tax payers paying for said surgery's when they should be classified as cosmetic is fine right? In almost all countries, it's not free at all. You still need to pay it yourself. This is generally the case with cosmetic surgeries. Because giving parents permission to change their childrens body's before they have even gone half way through puberty is harmless right? I don't think there has been any evidence that someone has suddenly gotten attracted to the different gender after puberty. However there are kids who pretend to be straight until they are teens, then come out of the closet. Plus these children are carefully monitored and given counseling. It's not as easy as you think. If you are fine with the surgery but not the age, then you should edit your original comment to reflect that.	Age	Age	1/181	0.552

Aiden TheGayTrans Oh you bet. You can take off some body parts, put some new ones in and take in hormones, but your chromosomes will still indicate you re your first gender. You cannot biologically change your gender. And just as you think an insult is rude, I find rude assumptions about people who disagree with you to be rude. And you aren t doing it politely, because you wouldn t have made the assumption that different opinionated people that say it s just a phase is part of the problem. Paws Um, my mother said it to my face. And I'm in a trans support group who have had it said to them. I know what I'm talking about. I know a lot of people who are helped by the transition. And biology can change. What about all the people with X chromosomes, are they still a woman? Or the ones with XXY, are they still a man? Or the ones born with both body parts? Biology can't explain everything. Science is always being proven wrong by new experiments. You can't count on only that. And it's been proven that trans people are literally not the right gender. Cave Beast the WHO and CDC now don t consider it as a mental illness anymore but a sexual health condition. Look at the suicide rates for gay people back then, they were much higher then, when more people were homophobic, than they are now. It s the same with trans people right now, once other people see transgenderism as normal suicide rates will drop. This is because of discrimination. And if you guys wanna pull that I had 2 trans friends kill themselves becuz for some reason AFTER transitioning I feel depressed as fuck because I feel as if I am a man or woman which is totally related to suicide rates, I ll give you an actual example of someone who I know in real life. They were born female and transitioned to male. When they told their parents, their parents agreed to help them transition. When the parents broke the news to the grandparents, the grandparents were in fucking tears and unhappy as fuck. They transitioned, but they loved knowing that their grandparents as well as society would look down on them. This made him stay stuck in his room for a while until years later he finally got the confidence and self-assurance to go out and be himself. Cave Beast one in six highschool students have thought about suicide. Here are statistics of LGB suicide rates from 2015, 3 years ago. http://www.suicidology.org/Portals/14/Re-Formatted 20LGB 20Youth 202016 20Fact 20Sheet.pdf?ver 2016-11-16-105952-633 Over 60 of LGB people have thought about suicide. Imagine if this was 2000, these percentages would be way higher. Trans people having a 40 suicide attempt rate at this time is not unrealistic as they are only just now becoming more accepted within society. This source states that the main reasons for these suicide statistics in just LGB people is homophobia/discrimination. The fact that trans people are more oppressed than LGB people nowadays would make sense that trans suicide rates are this high, right? Also gay suicide statistics back then are extremely similar to trans suicide rates now. So what s your point? No where near as high? Horseshit. There s a problem with you if everyone you know hates you and you kill yourself. Okay, tell that to the kids who get bullied and kill themselves. Or parents who verbally abuse their kids. Is there something wrong with these kids? NotSpooky Not true at all. You are a postmodernist with no data on your opinion at all. There is no data that tell is discrimination or bullying leads to people killing their self. If that were true and we live in a racist society where blacks and poor people are bullied then why don t they kill them selves at a higher rate than white men? The only time that a group of people have killed themselves at 40 rate was Jews during the holocaust who were being gassed to death... Trans people have it much easier and they have a mental illness that is being over looked.	Racist	Ethnicity	1/107	0.935

It actually is. The study you're referring to is a Swedish study that is often misquoted. Newer data shows that plenty of those who transition get improved quality of life. https://www.liebertpub.com/doi/full/10.1089/tr A lot of people also take said study out of context, this is a very important part For the purpose of evaluating the safety of sex reassignment in terms of morbidity and mortality, however, it is reasonable to compare sex reassigned persons with matched population controls. The caveat with this design is that transsexual persons before sex reassignment might differ from healthy controls (although this bias can be statistically corrected for by adjusting for baseline differences). It is therefore important to note that the current study is only informative with respect to transsexuals persons health after sex reassignment no inferences can be drawn as to the effectiveness of sex reassignment as a treatment for transsexualism. In other words, the results should not be interpreted such as sex reassignment per se increases morbidity and mortality. Things might have been even worse without sex reassignment. As an analogy, similar studies have found increased somatic morbidity, suicide rate, and overall mortality for patients treated for bipolar disorder and schizophrenia. 39 , 40 This is important information, but it does not follow that mood stabilizing treatment or antipsychotic treatment is the culprit. http://www.medscape.com/viewarticle/827713 Largest study to date. FeedMeSalt Homophobia doesn't exist anymore because gay marriage is legal. Racism doesn't exist anymore because slavery is abolished. Sexism isn't real because they have equal rights. This is your logic. All of these exist, including transphobia, and if you deny that you are delusional.	Racism	Ethnicity	1/44	2.273
Parking Lott Gay and bisexuals don't have fucking suicide rates Double the national average. Black people don't kill themselves 50 of the time when people are racist. You know why? It's not an illness. You shot your own argument down. Nothing will ever be fully accepted, the thing is, a healthy human won't fucking drown themselves because they don't feel like they are accepted or fit in. Obese people don't even have have mortality rates as high as the suicide rates. You think they feel comfortable in their body's? Probably fucking not. Jesus Christ you defending something so harmful is disgusting to me. For something to drive a person to end them selves, an act so selfish and fundamentally wrong. That's an illness.	Racist	Ethnicity	1/123	0.813

FeedMeSalt last time I checked it s way more socially accepted to be fat, gay or black than it is to be transgender. I mean, look at you, you re a great example of this. I was not making the argument, if you are oppressed, your group of people will have significantly high suicide rates. I was making the argument the more oppressed/discriminated against you are, the higher your suicide rates are. And the fact is, people like you are the reason discrimination is very well alive against the trans community. Anyways, LGB suicide rates are still much higher than straight suicide rates, so that completely defeats your point on how oppressed people don t have higher suicide rates. You know, there are statistics that show post transition trans people have an improved quality of life than pre transition. Look at the sources in this comment thread, pre transitioned trans people are more likely to kill themselves than post transition. So what you re against is actually the most effective way of reducing suicide rates because this has been repeatedly shown to reduce suicide rates in individuals with gender dysphoria. Lucas Nicoara and anyways, most trans people would not consensually go under psychological treatment for good reason. They don t WANT TO. Just like gay people didn t. You claim you know what would be a better solution but similar cases in the past show it s not. If a trans person really wants to go through psychological treatment, I m pretty sure they would have. Unless you re advocating for them to be forcefully put through this? Now that s actual evil.	Gay	Sexual Identity	1/77	1.299

Yes, oppression leads to depression, which leads to fucking suicide. Society will change for the better of trans people as it has for black and gay people (though of course not completely). Suicide rates will drop once people become tolerant. It s disgusting how you act like you know what s best for trans people but you don t fucking know shit about how trans people feel. Trans people unanimously agree that transitioning is the best option. We ve shown you evidence of improved quality of life for post transitioned trans people, which means performing sex changes literally reduces suicide attempts instead of not performing surgery. Nobody said its wrong to be happy, but people are allowed to have opininions and beliefs which both make transgender people unhappy, so we should all abandone our opininions and beliefs just because some poeple who cant decide what gender they are got offended? And before you tell me that our beliefs are to exterminate LGBT poeple Id want to assure you most people do not think they should be killed or hurt, people simply think that they are sick and certain people have a problem when LGBT community are treating their conditions as normal and forcing it into public. Straight people dont care about LGBT people and they dont have a problem with them, they have a problem when they start to normalize their conditions. Whats next? Autism is normal? Pedophilia? After all pedophiles are not mentally sick, they think like normal people and are capable of independence, but they have certain sexuall drives towards kids, they were born that way and had no choice in the matter, so should we normalize pedophilia? I think not. LGBT people are not pedophilles, i know, but they have similar disorders none of which are normal and none of them chose to be born that way. Its just that pedophilles disorder makes them a predator. So its seen as not normal and LGBT is suddenly becoming normal just because its not predatory...they are both abnormalities.	Transgender	Transexuality	1/233	0.429

Man O' War okay but...women don t pee from their fucking vaginas, dumbass. Both men and women have this thing called a urethra. It s a small hole located a few centimetres up from the vagina and is used explicitly for urinating as a female, while males ejaculate and pee from the same hole. Also, nobody s arguing that he isn t still, scientifically, a female. There s a difference between sex and gender, sex being your physical attributes (genitals, xy or xx chromosomes, etc) and gender being the way you identify. Just because they re basically still female doesn t mean they can t identify as male. There s a lot to take into consideration here. I will not buy into this bullcrap. She is a she, her family can address her as a he, I do not mind, but not me. Same thing with the CIS gender bullshit, there is no such thing as cis gender or binary or whatever the fuck, there is male, female, and then there are mental illnessess (hermaphrodites and some chromosome syndromes are some exceptions when the person is born with both genders, only then can the person be allowed to choose one or the other)	Mental	Physical (and Mental) Impairments	1/163	0.613

PrinceGalaxy Because imagine a transgender guy comes up to me looking like a woman and presenting himself like a proper woman. Had hormonal treatment and all. Comes up to me and starts flirting. I have no fucking clue what a real woman is anymore. And not to be rude or anything. But I like my women fertile. And not men with inverted penises and testicles. As not being able to have children is a real deal stopper to many men. I have a huge fucking problem with trannies because they think they can go to the dating market as if they were the opposite gender, when in reality they are being dishonest from the get go. When dating, a transexual needs to say what they were born like to avoid problems when things get intimate. If we can bypass this big issue for me, then we can agree, they can be called whatever the fuck they want. (as long as it's she or he, I won't be using made up words for made up genders ) Because let's be honest, if a man finds out he's been making out with a tranny when before he thought he was a woman, there is a big chance that tranny is getting his shit beat the fuck out of him. Because in the end. A tranny is not a lady, but a gay man/woman on steroids basically	Tranny	Transexuality	1/233	0.429

Man O' War I think you're a little confused. Transgender guy that looks like a woman??? Transgender men look identify as men. Transgender women look identify as women. And, inverted penises and testicles??? i don't think it's qualified to be called that, as the surgery for trans women looks really fucking good. And it's possible for a woman who was born as a woman, to be infertile, I don't think someone would dump the love of their life just because their infertile, you know what i mean? Not to mention a lot of trans people already mention they're trans, WAY before they get to the stage of having children. Or at least it's best for them to go to a dating site that's welcome to lgbtq . If some man beats the shit out of a trans woman just because they made out, that's on him for being transphobic. Trans women are women, and trans men are men. Maybe not 100 biologically, but who cares?? All trans people are different, some have the entire full surgery, and some don't. there's always adoption, and if you dont want to date someone because their trans for the sake of not being able to have biological children, then that's fine too, but it's best to be nice about it.	Transgender	Transexuality	1/217	0.461

Man O' War Hey, it's you who's transphobic okay? We all know it's your opinion, and I can blatantly get behind defending one's opinion, this is a little different than you think. Study the topic. Trans men and women both can have severe mental illnesses because of their born gender. I have a friend who told me their story, in which before they realized how they identified they hated absolutely everything about their body. Their voice, their natural curves, their eyes, their jaw, their hair, the way they walked, the stereotypes of their gender, you fucking name it, they had a literal anxiety attack over it. It was devastating to their mental health. Only when they realized they were trans did things change. They did what they could to be more like who they wanted to be physically, and they're still waiting it out before they can finally get testosterone. They're fighting a literal mental health issue because they identify as male and not female. They're dealing with it and taking the criticism. Most of them won't fuck with Transphobic people because they know it's useless, but I'm proud to back them up. I'm also proud to say that ever since I've accepted the fact that I'm genderfluid my life has gotten so much easier. See here's the real root of the issue. Waste is wrong on all levels. Doesn't matter whether that waste is of talents (intelligence, wisdom, strength, knowledge, kindness, beauty, happiness, etc...) or material goods and services. Humanity is not a new thing and human happiness is not something that hasn't been explored in great depth and breadth. I know that you think that your perversions are cute and new, novel and innovative, but there truly is nothing new under the sun. It has all been tried before. What you are advocating herein has a long and miserable track record that you think you can change with rainbows and unicorns and singing whatever the new version of Kumbaya is. To any sane person the waste in human potential, beauty, happiness, productivity, increase, and so many more things of value, is stark and overwhelming. You think that everybody that opposes what you advocate is mean and unfeeling when in reality we feel more and deeper than those who have become past feeling. We mourn daily and agonize over the great misery being forced upon the world by an extremely militant and rabid minority that have managed to deceive many good people into buying their lies by attaching their fallacious arguments to things everybody is for. It is no different than those who are pro-murdering-babies re-badging as being for choice and a woman's body and her rights to it being respected when in reality the entirety of the issue is whether a woman has a right to murder a baby before it is born in a certain and specific way. Dank Matters fish Never had a crush on somebody that I couldn't do something about. Gay is a mental illness. If every animal turned gay there would be none left. What is scientifically good is what perpetuates the species and what is bad is what destroys the species. Scientifically gay is bad. Religiously gay is bad. Common sense and oh looky still bad. The cure to mental illness is not acceptance, it is getting rid of it. Had I been so cursed to be attracted to men I would have just married a masculine female and moved on with life in a way that makes sense instead of self-destructing like you lot always manage to do. Part of me is glad then, that the blight is removed from humanity and part of me is sad because I really do want people to all find, posses, and maintain true happiness that lasts. But I realize there are way too many that refuse to be happy and that's just sad. But keep trying to sail your anchor all you like...	Common	Working class	1/178	0.562

To be fair, my friend, this video isn t to please or help you in life, so you really shouldn t be concerned about HIS gender. You should keep your opinion to yourself because I guarantee no one cares but you and the very few that agree with it because most of the comments are to support HIM . Not you. ./	Gender	Gender	1/59	1.695

Nope, his he himself. The heuristic almost everyone uses when determining with which pronouns somebody should be addressed is based on the appearance of the person, because you can't do a genetic test on the street. And it is more than obvious that he looks like a dude now and that you would use he if you didn't know him and would have met him as a stranger. So I don't understand this but muh biological gender bullshit. It doesn't even make sense to call him she and you wouldn't do it in person, so why not help him find comfort in his life and call him he , when you would do it anyways? It has nothing to do with political correctness or forcing some made-up pronouns upon you, it is literally common sense, and something you do probably every day when meeting a stranger. Why does it matter to you if he's a woman or a man, as long as I am not forced to call someone by a made-up pronoun nobody uses, why bother? He looks and sounds like a dude, and that's the only information I need to determine how I call someone. If you would just start to let people, that haven't forced you to do shit, live their own fucking lives, without calling them infertile abominations worthy of being studied in a lab , then there would be one radical feminist, and one person that can be rightly called transphobe and used as fuel for feminist agenda, less.	Nobody	Youngsters	1/203	0.493

Water Symbol Sex cannot be changed by surgical operations. The term sex change operation is misleading. Cosmetic surgery can alter the appearance of the genitalia, hormones can enlarge the male breasts and change hair distribution. Make-up artists can alter a male face into a pouting female one. These have changed your sex, haven't they? Actually, no they haven't. The only things that have changed are your name, title, appearance and dress. Even without surgery it may be difficult at times to differentiate male from female, with both sexes wearing their hair long and dressed in similar attire. Looking up their genes is one way of distinguishing their sex. In the first place it is genes which determine our sex. We humans have 23 pairs of chromosomes one from the mother's ovum and one from the father's sperm in all our body cells. Genes (made of DNA) lie strung along our 23 pairs of chromosomes. Chromosome-pairs numbers 1 to 22 are microscopically identical, but chromosome pair number 23 the so called sex chromosomes are different. In the female number 23 has two paired large X chromosomes (so called because they resemble the letter X). In the male number 23 has one X chromosome paired with one small Y chromosome. It is this variation that determines sex differentiation. The ovum produces X chromosomes only, while the sperm produces both X and Y varieties. Other factors are involved for example the steroid hormones and other hormones and enzymes, which play an important role in the later maturation of sex. Clearly, no amount of surgery can change the 100 million million body cells to alter the chromosome combinations that determine our sex. So a sex change is impossible.	Sex	Gender	1/286	0.35

'Normal' isn't a word that applies to nature. Nothing is 'normal' in nature. 'Normal' refers to things conforming to certain norms, and norms are human-made rules. It comes from the Latin 'norma' which was an instrument of measurement. Things in nature are typical or atypical. Homosexuality and transgenderism are atypical, but so are left-handedness or situs inversus. You can read On the Normal and the Pathological , a book written by French physician Georges Canguilhem. It's a very important book for philosophers and medicine practitioners. I'm not a biology student, I'm a student in biomedical research. It's a bit like medicine if you prefer, but it's aimed at doing research in a laboratory to make medicine go forward instead of directly providing care to people. I'm not American. I'm Belgian. Please read the links I posted if you want to understand transgenderism better.	Nothing	Youngsters	1/143	0.699

On gender being a social construct, I will admit that I have too little knowledge about the subject to be able to form a well-substantiated opinion. I still have to brush up on social sciences. What I can say is that male and female are biological realities, independent of human social representations, while man and woman are categories to which humans culturally attach certain qualities. But those qualities aren't always based on biological realities. Therefore, you can observe certain people indentifying more with certain aspects of the category they weren't assigned to at birth in virtue of their genitalia. The link I sent you talks about the causes of that fluidity and tends to explain it through an incomplete masculinization or feminization of the brain.	Woman	Gender	1/125	0.8

A lot of people will think wrong of me on this. But I will say it anyway, we have no authority to change our body gender by any means possible. We were all designed by God (Yahweh). Therefore changing our gender etc is a form of rebellion. We should take the matter to him in prayer. There were cases where people changed their gender identity and lived to regret it. If you feel that you are in the wrong body (feelings that do exist due to chemical imbalance etc) take it to the LORD in prayer, he can do wonders.	Gender	Gender	1/100	1.0

IdolMike that is a very dangerous sentence. A person's brain isn't even close to full development at age 14, let alone 18. Synnerization wasn't hating, he was advising. The reason i mention age is because you can't fully understand the consequences of an action at such an age. i don't know how old you are but if you are an adult think back to when you were a child/teen. think of all the impulse moves you made. whether it was buying something on a whim or maybe even a sexual act that you thought was a good idea but really wasn't, there's no denying that we have things like legal drinking/smoking age and age of consent. PinkHairedGamer 1. wait it out until you re an adult (many of us have waited). It sucks, but try your best to cope with your body while you change and grow. 2. Medically transitioning is a very serious step. Also understand that medically transitioning is not necessary to be trans. 3. Don t let the hate get to you. These comments prove it s all over the place. Namely, hate in this area is coming from ignorance. Gender is absolutely not a social construct. Gender and sex are both biological. Gender can be seen in the body through the brain (MRI, white/grey matter and region differences). And last but not least: Worry about transitioning when you have full control over your environment. For now, keep up with studying. Hang out with your friends and make good memories. Express yourself how you seem fit (even if that means coming out). Peace, brother.	Sex	Gender	1/148	0.676

Sarcastic Squash that s leftist propaganda. Gender is not a social construct. I actually hate that belief because it does so much harm for the trans community. We ve been fighting for appropriate medical treatment, and to have so many people spouting oh it s a social construct! has taken us a million steps back. Gender resides in the brain and can be examined. Sex resides between the legs and can be examined. They go hand in hand, and if something doesn t align, dysphoria is the result.	Sex	Gender	1/84	1.19

OnionBro YT Why must you be close minded rather than have a proper discussion of sex and gender?	Sex	Gender	1/18	5.556
OnionBro YT but there IS a difference between sex and gender. I just wanna discuss that gender is different from sex. Sex is the physiological body of a person, however, gender is the emotional aspect. Sex body Gender emotional or mental	Mental	Physical (and Mental) Impairments	1/39	2.564

gerard bernos No...gender is not disconnected from sex. You cannot magically change your gender just because you believe you are what you aren't. Dumbass, you clearly don't understand basic biology	Sex	Gender	1/30	3.333
Klovod i do understand biology. That there is a female and a male body. If they are the same why there be two words? And yes, you can be any gender you want because it is emotional and mental. How can you say that it is not disconnected? Firstly define what gender is so that we can understand. A dictionary definition	Mental	Physical (and Mental) Impairments	1/61	1.639
gerard burnos Gender is determined by your XY chromosomes, you cannot change it based on your own convenience. You can't change your DNA, you can't become a male when you are genetically a female. If I say and believe that I am a cat when I am genetically a human, does that mean I'm a cat? DNA cannot be changed. Claiming that you are the gender to which you are not, is a mental illness known as gender dysphoria. Which is also why the suicide rates are so high, because it's a mental illness that needs to be treated accordingly, not encouraged.	Mental	Physical (and Mental) Impairments	1/102	0.98

You are not a man if you're a female, just because you believe so in the mind. The notion that gender is malleable and can be changed based on your own convenience, is not philosophically consistent. Because you (the moron) believe that gender which is determined by DNA, can be changed based on your own opinions of the English language, then can I change my race as well and become a Filipino woman despite me being an Ethiopian Male? If not, then why can't I identify as such? The transgender (mental illness) ideology is only constructed to appeal to emotion rather than logic and science. Which is why in every professional debate, the left always loses on this topic (and many more), because they have no facts to reinforce their argument. This whole argument that gender can be changed based on your own opinions, is not sustained at all by solid facts, just emotion. Which is why members of the LGBT (degeneracy) group suggest that transgender pronouns should be respected despite the fact that transgenderism lacks philosophical consistency regarding the disregard for DNA over feelings.	Race	Ethnicity	1/185	0.541
---	------	-----------	-------	-------

And just to respond to your argument which was based on your believe that gender to you, is a social construct. Almost every single word is a social construct, what is your point? The reason why there are two genders, is because throughout history, boy meant boy and girl meant girl, it was never the other way around. Of course some primitive cultures believed in third or fourth, etc genders, but that doesn't make it correct. These cultured believed in many spiritual things which contradict science and biology. My point is, the reason why there are two genders is because 99.99 of the human race either has an XX or XY chromosome, with acceptance for those with very rare genetic disorders which greatly affect their body and health (height, weight, body hair, bone structure, etc), these are genetic disorders because they are not normal and come with a multitude of cons, nature does not intend for there to be a third gender for the human race, whenever this phenomenon happens (XXY, YY), it results in non-normal distribution of testosterone and estrogen along with many other disastrous variations. The healthy human, has an XX or XY chromosome is my other point, which is why most healthy human beings have one of the two, I made this argument just to disassemble your upcoming argument on the fact that third genders genetically exist. Of course they do, but they are genetic mutations which are very rare and affect the person's body greatly. Another thing, males and females are intended by nature to look and behave differently. Which is why binary gender exists for the two genitalia. Just to disassemble your genderfluid bullshit.	Race	Ethnicity	1/279	0.358

Klovod why is it philosophically inconsistent? Reference? Race is out of the picture. As it is defined as the biological body. You are the only one that is inconsistent. I already told you that it is sex. Well, yeah a woman can feel like a man but it will not change their sex, i concede to that. But it is still gender.	Race	Ethnicity	1/62	1.613
gerard burnos First of all, you clearly didn't bother READING all three of my comments which thoroughly explained the philosophical inconsistencies in the leftist transgender ideology where a man can become a woman whenever he wants, vice versa. This ideology is philosophically consistent because it is based upon being able to modify and disregard DNA based on how you feel in the mind. You would know what I meant if you read my comments you fucking dumb degenerate. Just like race, sex is genetic. If you have XY chromosomes you are a male, if you have XX chromosomes, you are a female. No amount of surgery or hormones can change this, dumbass. Now dumbass, you still haven't answered my question. If gender/sex, which is GENETIC/PERMANENT, can be changed based on the individual's convenience, then why cannot race which is GENETIC/PERMANENT as well be changed? Gender is genetic, if you even bother to argue against this, you're full of shit.	Race	Ethnicity	1/159	0.629

Sex is biological, gender is mental. Doesn't change the fact that trans people usually have mental issues leading to the decision to change their sex. And yes, you can be any gender you want because it is emotional and mental That's why the whole gender thing is complete bullshit, you can say that you're a woman but it just isn't right. You can't just decide that you want to be a women out of nowhere, that's not how it works and operation won't make you a woman either.	Mental	Physical (and Mental) Impairments	1/88	1.136

Taking drugs and having surgeries is not a game. This behavior should NOT be encouraged or celebrated. It is dangerous. Conditioning children to believe the absurdity that they or anyone could be born into the wrong body, and that a lifetime of chemical and surgical impersonation of the opposite sex is normal and healthful is child abuse. Affirming gender dysphoria via public education and legal policies will confuse children and parents, leading more children to present to gender clinics where they will be given puberty-blocking drugs. This, in turn, virtually ensures that they will choose a lifetime of sterility, toxic cross-sex hormones, and likely consider unnecessary surgical mutilation of their healthy body parts as young adults. Can someone answer this for me please, because I cant get my head round it. If gender is a social construct, how can gender dysphoria be biological? You see, if gender is a social construct, then gender dysphoria MUST be a mental illness, right? On the other hand, if gender dysphoria is biological, if people can actually be born 'wrong-brained' ...then there can only be two genders, right? It seems to me that the trans community are trying to argue that gender is both biologically determined and a social construct that can be whatever you want it to be. It cant logically be both. You see the problem?	Mental	Physical (and Mental) Impairments	1/108	0.926

Martyntd5 I think of gender and sex as two things you re born as. My sex is female because I have higher estrogen levels, breasts and a vagina, but my gender is genderfluid. Gender has always been physiological thing because it s not a physical feature. Sex has always been a biological thing because it is what parts you have. Gender dysphoria is also physiological because it s mostly caused by people using the wrong pronouns or bringing up things that are for the wrong gender. Whoever told you that gender dysphoria is biological is incorrect	Sex	Gender	1/93	1.075
---	-----	--------	------	-------

Anna Mation ///Gender dysphoria is also physiological because it s mostly caused by people using the wrong pronouns or bringing up things that are for the wrong gender. Whoever told you that gender dysphoria is biological is incorrect/// Can I ask you to clarify this, because physiology is a subset of biology, if something is physiological, then it must also be biological. Did you mean psychological? Are you saying that gender dysphoria is exclusively a mental illness? You see, if gender dysphoria is a mental health problem and nothing else, then that begs the question how can surgery be justified? The surgical treatment of mental health problems went out of fashion with the lobotomy. If gender dysphoria is exclusively a mental health issue, how can you possibly justify giving puberty blockers to pre-pubescent children? If gender dysphoria is not a physical, biological thing, then reassignment surgery is just a huge sticking plaster that does nothing more than prop up someone’s illusions. You see the problem? For reassignment surgery to be a rational, logical option, then you have to accept that gender dysphoria is biological. That you can be born the ‘wrong’ gender. If you accept that gender dysphoria is biological, then there can only be two genders. If you dont accept that gender dysphoria is biological, then it can only be psychological. That makes gender dysphoria a mental illness and reassignment surgery becomes irrational and immoral in many cases. You cant have it both ways. Whichever side you come down on, your choice alienates half of the trans community.	Nothing	Youngsters	1/258	0.388

HASHEAVEN I m an atheist and being transgender is a mental disease. Sorry about your depression, keep taking your placebos.	Transgender	Transexuality	1/19	5.263

Let's accept it's a disease... Then all people who don't accept the gender they are born with having this so-called "mental disease" even if they try to act straight and oppress their feelings and they way they naturally faction since they are born. So being trans isn't the disease we talk about, but the solution many of these people find to "cure" this disease! Since there are no meds that can make them accept their gender! (different to gays who accept their gender and the body they are born with)! So even if it is a disease, we should let them be whatever makes them happy. and not point the finger at them telling them they are mentally ill! Fighting their inner self because of taboos, and being oppressed and ridiculed by society, is way worse for them than letting them be and dress as they wish! (and can lead to unhappy lifes, depression, marginalism, and even to suicides.) And if all people who don't like their body they are born with are mentally ill, then 90 of the planet have mental diseases. So if you are streight and aren't affected by this it's unethical and sort of evil attacking people with "mental illnesses" just because you don't like them. It's like going to psychiatric hospitals telling the patients -Hey dude you have a mental disease!!	Mental	Physical (and Mental) Impairments	1/226	0.442

jasonudliketoknow why do you assume that it s a mental illness? Why not a physical illness. The person in the video is a male. The consciousness is male. If the consciousness says it s male and feels like it s male. It s fucking male. The body is the part which is the illness. The consciousness is you. You aren t your body. You say that is MY dick not that is me because you are separate to your body (sorta). Now on the logic that we have here. The person in this video is a male. The body is a female. So what are they? Karkat Vantas Well, picking up my example, I can live socially as Batman and have people calling me Mr. Wayne, would that make me Batman? No, It makes me insane. Gender dysphoria is a cute euphemism for thinking you're something you're not . If I think I'm Batman, I need medical treatment, not people saying It's okay, you can be whatever you want, Mr. Wayne . How is Gender dysphoria different from other psychological problems like messiah complex? And considering 40 of transgenders have attempted suicide at some point, I don't believe that saying it's okay to think you're a (wo)man is the correct approach to this issue.	Gender	Gender	1/106	0.943
---	--------	--------	-------	-------

TheSuperSaturos the trans people who did commit suicide (or have suicidal thoughts) did not do it because they're trans but because of people like you who say they're insane or freaks if they're trans.. or that they should just accept their biological gender (which is impossible if you have genderdysphoria) by the way they do not think that they're the opposite gender they do know very well what biological gender they are.. but they don't want to live like that (which is also not a personal decision.. they just cant live like that if they really want to enjoy their life) anyway I see that it's pointless because you just can't understand the pain of a transgender person also there are no pills or medicine who can actually heal genderdysphoria (believe me some transpeople really don't wanna be trans and would prefer to just be happy with their biological gender and fit in ) so the only way you can be happy with this disorder is through transitions/hormones otherwise they might commit suicide because who would want to live in pain for their whole life? actually you can compare genderdysphoria with an autoimmune disease with the only difference that it's mental and not physical and please don't compare it to a stupid costume.. it really is a disorder you know? you can compare it to other disorders for example but come on.. it's not in a single way like a costume.. transpeople don't want to be a fictional character who can do impossible things.. they only want to live a life as the opposite gender and again they do know that they're not an 100 actual biological male.. it's really silly to compare it to a person who believes they're batman because of a costume I'm gonna repeat myself just to make sure: It's pointless to talk to you about stuff like that	Transgender	Transexuality	1/372	0.269

Karkat Vantas Hey, hey, hey, hold on! I don't see trans people as freaks, that actually offends me because you're accusing me of something I'm clearly not, I respect everyone EQUALLY. What I'm saying is that transgenders are people who need help to blend in our society, but feeding their gender dysphoria by saying you can be whatever you want is no help at all. Well, guess what people with messiah complex say: I KNOW I'm destined to something big. I'm SURE I'll save my country/the world. People with disorders of this kind usually deny they have a problem until it's evident for them that something's not right. Even if it's not the same as that, as the name says, it's, like depression or anxiety. People with any kind of dysphoria seek psychology to overcome that mental state, not pills to feed the problem even more. Let's say I have depression because I'm physically handicapped (which I actually am, it's a disease with unknown cure or treatment, but I have no depression because of that). If I go to a psychologist, he won't tell me oh, poor thing. I'll give you artificial legs so you can walk , he will try to make me accept what I am and live my life the best I can. My parents suffered from serious depression after my brother died (I didn't because I was a baby), they went to a psychologist and he helped them accept and overcome his death, he didn't say you can have another kid to replace him , that's absurd (and cruel, too). Besides, can you back that up? Can you prove that trans people commit suicide only because they're not accepted? How do you know there aren't other reasons? Most transgender people who try or commit suicide are teens and young adults, a period of life that is very hard and confusing for most heterossexuals, imagine what it's like	Transgender	Transexuality	1/436	0.229
--	-------------	---------------	-------	-------

TheSuperSaturos maybe you don't see them exactly as freaks but you do definitely not accept them the way they are because you said transitions are the wrong way to help those people which clearly isn't the case because they are much happier after their transition you want them to suffer their whole life because you say you can't be who/whatever you want as if they would want to be unicorns or superheros everything about gender is a society problem and in my opinion everyone can live their life how they want to and they just want to be accepted as a male/female in our soxiety and want you to use he/him pronouns and that's it so where's the fucking problem? now let's talk about surgery woman can get a top surgery to make their breasts bigger so they feel more comfortable in their body so why can't other woman make their breasts smaller because of the the same reason? it's everything about/because of our society.. and maybe you also don't like that some women make their breasts bigger or anything like that but I'm sure you say It's their life so I don't care and same with tattoos but OOOHHH don't a stranger dare to identify as the opposite gender and make them feel comfortable in their body and life look if you have genderdysphoria everything you do is using other pronouns.. changing your name and maybe doing some surgeries and taking hormones and after that they are mostly likely happy for the rest of their life.. they do not bring anyone else in danger and harm no one around them	Transition	Transexuality	1/271	0.369
--	------------	---------------	-------	-------

Karkat Vantas You're so wrong about me, dude, but I'll get there. Are they really happy after the transition? Happy people don't commit suicide. People can do whatever they want, even live in a world of lies and illusions, but don't come complaining and whining if you find out that escapism doesn't solve your problems. Now that's where you're mistaken about me. If I wanted them to suffer, I wouldn't want to help them accept themselves and seek help if they need. How can they be accepted if they don't do it for themselves first? I'm not against breast augmentation, but I don't advise it because implants may cause lymphomas and other serious problems which will require the remotion of the breast in worst case scenarios. There are also bad surgeons that, yes, make your boobs bigger, but then they get ugly because the surgeon is a bad professional. Assymetrical breasts, balloon/gravity defying breasts and visible scars are very common issues in breast augmentation surgeries. If a woman close to me asked my opinion I'd say don't do it, because (insert reasons I said before) . As for breast reduction, there's no danger other than visible scars, so I'd say it's a waste, but go ahead and do it if you want . As for tattoos, it's the same: not against it, but I don't advise it. Big tattoos are cool when we're young, but when we get old and the skin gets flabby, the tattoo will be ruined and you will regret it. The remotion of tattoos is expensive and painful, there's that, too. As for gender and society, the word gender itself as we're using it is a social construct made by those who say everything's a social construct. In reality, there's no such thing as genders, in this context, of course. What exist are men and	Transition	Transexuality	1/414	0.242

TheSuperSaturos okay just to make things clear I only believe in Female, male and transgender and nothing else and now you don't get the point again.. gender has nothing to do with your personality.. transgender people only like to be seen as a male (I'm gonna use female to male as example) meaning they want to use he/him pronouns maybe want a deeper voice and a flat chest.. it's nothing about your personality at all and you know if you would really want transgender people to be happy you would support them on their way of transitioning and not say accept your biological gender I don't care if you're getting depressed because of it or hate yourself so much that I can't even imagine it and that only because of your biological gender (I know those are not your exact words but that's basically what it is.. you want them to accept themselves as their biological gender but you don't want to accept them being transgender even tho they would feel way better this way) I'm sorry if I got a wrong picture of you but let's be honest.. you're not helping them at all like this.. and again.. it's nothing about your personality	Transgender	Transexuality	1/204	0.49

Karkat Vantas We don't know if it helps. Have we tried? No. Because transgender people don't make sense: they claim they need to change sex in order to be happy. They change sex, but still 40 of them commit suicide, which means they're still not happy. We try to accept them more and more and the numbers still won't go down. When we try a different approach, they call us, explicitly or implicitly, transphobic. So what the fuck are we supposed to do?	Transgender	Transexuality	1/83	1.205
--	-------------	---------------	------	-------

TheSuperSaturos what you're supposed to do? nothing! that's none of your buisness at all.. maybe people should just accept them as their wrong gender.. try to see them as actual males even if they were born a female.. no one cares about the x/y chromosome you know being trans is a thing.. transitioning is the way how we face the disorder these days.. this is what psychologists decided is the best for transpeople.. and I think they know what they do.. transpeople who commit suicide might have other reasons for this just like other cis people who commit suicide too.. not all of them commit suicide because they are trans (at least not after the transition) yes maybe some of them but not all of them.. and just because you transitioned doesn't mean all your problems are gone.. transpeople have other problems as well just like normal people because that's what they are.. normal people and again being trans is not easy.. you have to talk to so many psychologists.. have to make a test that goes at least one year and only after that and after more than just one psychologist said it's the only way.. only after that.. you are allowed to take hormones/surgeries and don't forget that they don't run to a psychologist right after they just came up with the thought of maybe being transgender no.. so the way for transpeople is really hard and long.. and why? because they don't want people who aren't actually trans to make the biggest mistake in their life.. and because of all this it is mostly the case that they are happy after transitioning because many psychologists thought about it asked you so many questions and what not just so they can be at least 90 sure that it's the right thing for you	Transition	Transexuality	1/305	0.328

Karkat Vantas So, I'm supposed to forget common sense and pretend that men are women and women are men? I'm supposed to accept that almost half of transgenders commit suicide? I'm supposed to just let them call me names because I want to treat gender dysphoria as what it is: a dysphoria? Sorry, but no. I'm not gonna just sit and do nothing. What psychologists do nowadays isn't a definitive solution, it's clearly a temporary one, looking at the suicide rates. Yes, cis people also commit suicide, but they're not even near 40 . You can't compare. If even after 1 year of examining transgenders and after the transition, some still commit suicide, then psychologists are obviously doing something wrong. That's the famous definition of insanity: doing the same thing over and over again and expect different results. Assuming most transgenders nowadays seek psychologists, but still their methodology for treating gender dysphoria has a success rate of nearly 60 (pretty low compared to other dysphorias like anxiety and depression), that means that sex transition still isn't the ideal treatment. The logical solution is let's try other methods and see how it goes . That's how science approaches problems, try different methods until one reaches satisfactory results and 60 success rate is nowhere near satisfactory.	Transition	Transexuality	1/212	0.472

TheSuperSatur0s Transgender already DO get help and treatment. The treatment is medical too. It entails taking hormonal supplements for the rest of their lives to ensure that their body matches who they are (their gender). Gender dysphoria is not as simplistic as a psychological problem, as you state. It is a physiological anomaly that can only be treated by making the body match up with the gender that the brain IS. It's not a mental illness or a personality disorder. It's way more complex than that. How does it hurt you in any way that the preferred treatment (only treatment that works) is not what you subjectively (and naively) believe what is right and wrong? It doesn't affect you in any way. So it's not your place, at all, to determine what the best option is for those who are transgender.	Transgender	Transexuality	1/141	0.709

Are you trying to mimic living with the man's condition? Do you also try to capture the rise and fall of testosterone that naturally occurs in men depending on situations? For example- Falling in love decreases men's testosterone levels while increasing women's testosterone levels. Also, a couple of years into a relationship men who produce less testosterone are more likely to be in that relationship and men who produce more testosterone are more likely to divorce. Also, men with raised testosterone are found to be more fair in negotiations but also less generous when there wasn't a clear benefit to be generous. Men also naturally increase their levels of testosterone if they lift weights, get sun, have a particular diet... excess alcohol or drug use naturally decrease our levels of testosterone. Do you work with your doctors to try tp mimic this complexity as closely as possible to capture a more authentic male experience?	doctors	Nationality	1/154	0.649
I didn't know there were people who are afraid of transgender people. And you say they not only fear them but demand they have a penis and produce cum? The situation in merika is stranger than I thought. Why can't a person just be happy with him/her self? Why is there a need to have breast implants or take hormones? I believe that being beautiful (man or woman) is living healthy. I read that hormone treatments carry unnecessary risk such as an increase rate of cancers...smh	Transgender	Transexuality	1/86	1.163

Transvestite- a person who sometimes wears clothes traditionally worn by and associated with the opposite sex typically a male who cross-dresses occasionally by habit or compulsion. Transvestites are often happy with their gender and have no desire to change their sex, but simply enjoy being able to cross-dress from time to time. Oh yeah, this is definitely compulsion, appearing as the gender he identifies as. And taking Testosterone for two years is hardly a far cry from occasionally cross-dressing. Thank you for straightening that out.	Sex	Gender	1/85	1.176

I would imagine they take estrogen instead of testosterone, since that induces the growth of secondary female sex characteristics (boobs, extra layer of body fat around the stomach/thighs/glutes, yada yada...) M2F transgenders can also have breast implants, if they so choose, but I'm pretty sure estrogen would be the main thing. To be honest, Google probably has more information than I do about the actual process of transitioning. Still, I hoped this helped at least a little.	Fat	Physical Features	1/77	1.299

Okay give me a second to process what I just read. First you called Jesus TRANSGENDER, then don't believe that being transgender is deforming God's image? It is arrogant to believe that these people can do whatever they want to their body and call themselves Christian . They use God made me this way as an excuse to ruin their body. If you think that Jesus was transgender (since transgender is a fake term), then you need to read the Bible. God placed baby Jesus into Mary.	Transgender	Transexuality	1/85	1.176

Hormones aren't a good way to treat gender dysphoria...	Gender	Gender	1/9	11.111

Absolutely not. Physiological counseling is in need. This recognized mental illness should not be normalized. For example... People with schizophrenia or psychosis are given medication to try and regulate their brain chemistry, counseling and other means of treatment are valid ways to mitigate the issues. I understand none of the treatments might not work but that does not make these people normal ... Hormones and puberty blockers mean the boy or girl will literally be infertile. If they ever get help down the road or they feel like turning their gender back to fit their sex then they will never be able to have children. There's lots of research out there about gender dysphoria now recognized as gender identity disorder. I would really suggest you read up.	Mental	Physical (and Mental) Impairments	1/126	0.794 counseling normally doesn't help, especially when they're going through male/female puberty, the effects of their non desired gender are being shoved in their faces. Hormones are a very good way to treat dysphoria, but you are right about possible infertility. Children are normally put on blockers until they're old enough to make a choice about estrogen/testosterone so they have plenty of time to change their minds. Blockers only pause puberty, if they choose to go back to their biological sex they can simply stop the blockers and resume puberty. Most transgender people will freeze their eggs/sperm so if they do change their minds or just feel like having children, they can unfreeze them.	Transgender	Transexuality	1/113	0.885

You really are uneducated aren't you? There is no mental illness. Identity is predetermined genetically while sex organs can easily mess up. therefore it's really a genetic anomaly when men are born without a penis and the wrong sex organs. Sex organs have no say in a person's gender. the only person that needs psychiatric help you is.	Mental	Physical (and Mental) Impairments	1/58	1.724
I am uneducated? You know gender dysphoria IS a recognized mental illness right? Okay, lets open this up here, NO there aren't any traceable genetics that determine gender. Gender identity is ones personal experience to a gender or genders. It is something that is more or less an understanding of ones self, ultimately a social construct. Genders do exist and you misinforming people on this subject is really what is adding to people not fully understanding what gender is. People can be born without a penis and still identify as a male. There are syndromes such as klinefelter syndrome that are a good example of a male with female body parts. The chromosome make up is XXY. Fun fact. In ANY variation of chromosomes if there is a Y present the person identifies as a male. Genetic anomalies are a thing, they do happen, and ignorance doesn't make them go away. The great thing about facts is that whether or not you believe them, they still are a fact. dilen noris The suicide rate of holocaust survivors were about 3x that much of the general population and those in camps were nearly 30x as much. so about .01 of all people in concentration camps committed suicide. That is enormous, but actually MUCH smaller than trans people. Trans is comparable to nothing. Which is actually why its favorable to believe that its a severe mental illness that needs to be fixed. And transition (like others claim above) does little to affect the suicide rate.	Transition	Transexuality	1/84	1.19

Milo Hemingway Care to show me how that is the prescribed treatment? It wasn't as of 4 years ago. It recently took a huge political shift. I mean ffs the medical industry is extremely political, they don't care if they are killing you (that's why they have no problem prescribing you opiates). Transition has a negligible effect on suicide rates, the only long term study on gender dysphoria has proven this. A 42 suicide rate? That puts Holocaust suffers to shame. It's obvious a mental illness and we need to find a way to help these people. Transitioning has no significant effect on suicide rates (probably no effect at all), so to assume a course of action that will steralize you for the rest of your life probably isn't smart. I by no means am saying to not allow them to transition. I think it's fucking retarded, but if you are a grown adult and want to transition, that is your choice. However if you are under 18, you should NEVER be allowed to. I don't give a shit if your parents want it or not. We will not sterilize and disfigure a child when chances are they are going to grow out of it.	Transition	Transexuality	1/205	0.488
---	------------	---------------	-------	-------

The UnderBrony Well being gay is not normal, but statistically the effect it has on their life is negligible at best. So there is no reason to treat a gay person. They can live their life and no harm will come. Although a trans person having a 42 suicide rate is astonishing and fucking terrifying. Going through gender reassignment surgery and feeling accepted within your family or community has no significant effect on the suicide rate according to the only long term study done on gender dysphoria. All this shows us is something is actually wrong with people who experience this phenomenon. And honestly I think we need to find actual solutions to help these people. Transitioning is an adult's choice, I give zero shits what someone does with their body. HOWEVER, doctors prescribing this as the best course of action with no factual evidence to back this up is disgusting. And so is pushing this onto children (who a great majority of will grow out of this phase).	Zero	Youngsters	1/169	0.592

Hey guys, how about the possibility that someone literally just thinks fuck! Puberty! I gotta stop it! I don't want body hair, facial hair and male pattern baldness! I'd feel much more comfortable looking like a woman! I want the fat distribution and lack of muscle mass! I wish there was a way to stop this slope towards masculinity! and then they don't expect anyone to call them a woman or whatever anyways because they realize that gender is only meaningful in situations that deal with reproduction. I don't give a fuck if you call me a man or a woman because it really doesn't matter. I'm concerned with how I want to look to myself. This particular thing is heavily similar to people wanting to cut or dye their hair or wear clothes that they feel naturally represent themselves...including tattoos and piercings. Smonster TIME Sex and gender are not separate. Gender identity is a made up term and the definition of gender was changed for political correctness. Hell your license says SEX yet you can change it in some states with a note from a doctor saying you identify as the opposite gender. Its all become political now and no one gives a shit what the original definitions are. People change them as they wish to fit their political agenda. Its sick and dishonest.	Sex	Gender	1/82	1.22

I am going to ask a question that most will find irritating. I am a straight vanilla person. My question is why can't a person who feels they have been born into the wrong body, just accept the reality of that without changing it?? It is a beautiful working body regardless of if you do not like it. I am a woman, but if I wanted to do everything as a man, couldn't that just be like a super colorful expression rather than a need to physically alter my appearance and body parts? There are lots of things I am not happy about with my body and my life, and yes I would trade it for a totally different life and body right now if that were a realistic option. But I just kind of breath through the things I don't like, and find a spiritual center to help me cope with life. I just don't fully understand why that is not an option for those with gender dysmorphia.	Woman	Gender	1/169	0.592

my Mum and I have been talking about me being transgender for a while. But she's got more and more angry with me about it. She admitted herself in the worst tone possible that she will not support me until I fully develop and truly know what its like to be a girl. Then she said you need to find yourself, and that doesn't mean overnight, it takes YEARS! When I've already had years! Now she's saying I have to wait a minimum of 6 years (when I'm a legal adult) before we can start thinking of changing my name etc. Never mind getting surgery. I don't want to live that long as a girl and she just doesn't understand that. My Dad literally laughed in my face and left when I came out to him. I haven't told my brother, or anyone else. I have no idea what they might say. Maybe I just have to wait another 6 years half my life. I also think I'm bisexual too. They think I got all this nonsense from the internet. I don't know what to say Your mother is damn right. You don't onow what this is like. You may regret this decision rate. Tra sgender people have a high suicide rate... Because most of them didn't think this through. Don't do the same thing. Things feel pretty weird dyring puberty, you should just hold on. Being a tomboy doesn't always mean that you have to be the opposite sex. I know so many girls that used to behave or hang out with boys, but they changed as they grew up. In short: Don't do anything yet. Wait and decide this later. Focus on more important things like studies and stay close to your family.	Tomboy	Female homosexuality	1/115	0.87

Children don't always know what they will want in the future with regards to random things but they know who they are. Gender identity is evident since childhood, and feelings of not being cis are almost always traced back to childhood. This is your issue of ignorance-and their parent's. I'm 23 and without going into it too much I am not cisgender, once I knew I could trace this feeling in memories and even in writing through my journals back to when I was a child.	Gender	Gender	1/86	1.163
---	--------	--------	------	-------

RDB ///Gender identity is evident since childhood/// Actually, no it's not. It is extremely common for kids to go through identity crises of all kinds, including gender. That is unsurprising when you consider the tidal wave of growth and sex hormones that flood the body during childhood and puberty. It is a normal and natural part of growing up. It is a mistake not to give herself the opportunity to naturally resolve the crisis by simply growing out of it. That may not happen, but in most cases, that is exactly what does happen. Her dysphoria may simply evaporate as she grows into an adult and her hormones stabilise. It is important to remember that reassignment is not a cure. The young man in the video is extremely convincing, he should be able to live his life exactly as he chooses for the most part. But while he may look like a man, his biology will never be male and that will always be there for him. Reassignment may help for many, but it is not a cure.	Common	Working class	1/178	0.562
---	--------	---------------	-------	-------

In my personal opinion I really do think you should let nature take its course and actually let your body develop the way it was suppose to be. What is wrong with being a tom boy or a masculine thing. I'm pretty sure that everyone on the face of this earth hates their body to some degree but, it is your job to appreciate what life has given you, realize that other peoples opinions do not matter. Its your reality not anyone else's. I feel like you might think that this change will just fix everything in your life and boom you're happy forever. What if you get this change and then realize that it doesn't actually change who you are. Like im just saying if you get the change and then realize that you were wrong. Life will be a lot harder. Im so glad I didnt grow up in this age.	Age	Age	1/153	0.654
--	-----	-----	-------	-------

Not a cure well firstly that's off to the person transitioning. Perhaps some of them will never be fully fully happy with their internal organs but for most transitioning alleviates dysphoria and feelings of suicide and self-harm tendencies. Not every single transgender individual is happy after or during and some realize it's not for them-but it NEEDS to be up to the person themselves whether they want to do this because no one can speak for them and transitioning has changed so many people's lives for the better. I suggest you not assume but look at the people who can self report on this. https://www.reddit.com/r/asktransgender/com https://www.quora.com/Are-most-people-who- undergo-a-gender-transition-happier-after-transition-than-before-it I think happiness is pretty convincing I also think that in a perfectly accepting world there would be less pressure to transition as long as other knew who you were-but in this society transgendered individuals are forced to live a double life unless they can pass. I get how it's confusing for people because identity crisis is a part of being a teenager. But even with people who transition late their stories go back to feelings of dysphoria evident since very very young. Some children do grow out of it-so my beef with your argument is your implication it can't be a cure (and the possible implication that they can be converted back?). I think that while we need a balanced approach and I actually generally agree with what your saying (you do seem to have a bias in assuming that's what WILL happen though and I think that at this point it's safe to say he's clearly not growing out of it) when figuring this out-using	Transition	Transexuality	1/396	0.253
---	------------	---------------	-------	-------

RDB /// Not a cure well firstly that's off to the person transitioning./// People often dont want to hear the truth, nevertheless there it is. You can choose whether or not to be offended by it. To expand on the 'cure' statement, it really rather depends on the nature of the problem. If the issue is one of simply being unhappy with your appearance, then transitioning can be a cure. But I suspect that is almost never the case and if it's only appearance that is the issue, then your issues are probably not deep enough to warrant irreversible surgery and hormones. If you truly believe you are the wrong sex, then transitioning will not 'cure' you, because you can only change your appearance, you cannot change your sex. The young man in the video very definitely looks male, he will pass as a man 100 of the time. But at the risk of stating the obvious, he is not actually male and never will be. It can never be more than a masquerade. That might be enough for some, but I wouldn't be shocked if it falls short of expectations for most. I'm sure that many who transition state they are happier. But happiness is relative. Being happier that you were when you were suicidal, is progress but it may not be the great leap forward you might have been hoping for. You know when people make a big investment into something, it is human nature for them to evangelise about the wisdom of their investment. They are not necessarily the best people to ask for impartial advice. In long term studies, it's interesting to note that pre and post transition suicide rates, remain unchanged. Transitioning might help to some extent, but it isn't a cure and it's going to leave you with a whole bunch of new problems to deal with, such as sexuality to	Transition	Transexuality	1/617	0.162

I don't know what to say You might have born with a male brain and that's completely normal and okay. Don't you ever let anyone tell you who you are. It doesn't matter if you're not 18 to become a transgender because your brain already is! that's why you are depressed: because you're oppressing yourself into something you're not just to please other people. There probaly partly worried that it might not be the right choice. sure its glorified in the media at the moment but I've read stories of people who regetted it later on down in life. especially male to female. I was always under the impression that it was partly an obsessive disorder because of the way a person can obsess over wearing the opposite genders clothes and everything to do with the other gender. I guess one day if they somehow prove that people can be born in the wrong body, then it will be accepted but I think its a hard one to fully accept just because someone feels a certain way. There are some people who think they are cats or babies etc there life revolves around that so whos to say wanting to change gender isn't the same sort of problem? I think its important to understand the psychology behind the feelings of why you want to change gender before actually going through with any changes in oppose to watching a bunch of people in the media and youtube celebrate their change. Maybe one day they'll have hard evidence that a brain can be born in the wrong body but for now its not.	Gender	Gender	1/207	0.483
---	--------	--------	-------	-------

Ghost 572 that is exactly the point. In all the case records of pre-pubescent gender dysphoria, 75 of them come to accept their biological sex if allowed to progress through puberty naturally. Being unhappy with your physical body is really very common among teenagers. That doesn't mean there is a physical illness. It's also important to remember that taking puberty blockers and sex hormones, damages a perfectly healthy body. It's also important to consider that the pressure from trans-activists to have gender dysphoria declassified as a mental illness, is socio-political in origin. It isn't rooted in science, because there isn't any ...or precious little. It's not the same as bringing pressure on society to accept homosexuality, even though it is often compared to it. There are distinct differences and distinctly different claims with profoundly different consequences. Gender dysphoria has nothing to do with sexuality and accepting someone is gay, does not require that we give body-damaging puberty blockers, surgery and carcinogenic sex hormones to children. There needs to be a substantial body of evidence to be sure we are doing the right thing - and we dont have it yet. The trans activists and pressure groups have an intrinsic bias. Obviously they want their condition to be accepted as biological rather than psychological, but we need to be extremely cautious before accepting the I'll kill myself if you dont let me transition guilt trip that is often applied to parents, guardians and the medical community.	Transition	Transexuality	1/245	0.408

Ghost572 I know there's no hard evidence about that. You have an interesting theory, it's just that for me is even harder to believe that this is about an obsession like those cases where people fully know themselves or those very little children that identify with their opposite gender but not with theirs since they were born. I heard many times that we do have differences in our brains according to gender, it might have something to do with the genetics field. I hope some research is being made about this matter. I'm scared to socially transition because I'm scared about the way people would react to me, especially cutting my hair. I also have a ftm in my school but I'm scared to talk to him because it's weird to bring it up as he's like a year younger and also it's quite rude	Transition	Transexuality	1/103	0.971

alexander202 Can I ask, have you thought about your future relationships? I mean as a ftm, are you going to go for gay men in the hope they will overlook your female genetics? Or would you go for straight women, in the hope they will also overlook your female genetics? Do you plan to trick them by not telling them? Or are you going to be honest upfront and risk being lonely?	Gay	Sexual Identity	1/72	1.389
---	-----	-----------------	------	-------

alexander 202 OK, so how do you think a straight woman would feel, knowing that you used to be female and in fact still have 100 female genetics even after surgery/hormones? You see, even though you might feel male, biologically you are not and never will be. Do you not think someone who considers themselves to be straight female, might feel challenged by that? At what point is 'before going serious'? Is that before holding hands? Before the first kiss? Or before sex? Do you not think that any level of romance under such circumstances, might cause someone to feel revulsion and create a sense of self-loathing? You see, while you might have come to terms with being you, but nobody else is required to. I can tell you as a straight male, I would only consider genetic females for partners. I cant help that. We don't choose our sexuality and we are not in control of who we are attracted to. That is the same for straight or gay, male or female. Gay people want same-sex partners, straight people want opposite-sex partners and while gender is fluid, sex is not. For most of the population, transgender partners are not an option. That is the reality. It is possible that you could 'pass' (deceive someone) long enough for someone to have feelings for you before dropping the bomb. But to hope that they wont be revolted or angered by the deception, is a lot to ask, don't you think? If you are not upfront from the very start, you will suffer an awful lot of painful and angry rejections. If you are upfront from the beginning, you will most likely be taking yourself 'off the menu' and wont get the dates. Have you thought about this? I appreciate that gender is not the same as sexuality, but a decision to transition will have significant and	Transition	Transexuality	1/337	0.297

Martyntd5 yes I know where your coming from and it's tough, it really is knowing that your not the real deal and that's what troubles almost every transgender out their. But, we've come to this era where we can change our biological sex, it's possible. In 2011 they managed to change a female mice's ovaries into testes and produce the average amount of testosterone as a regular male mice by just turning on (or off I forgot) one gene. Imagine in 10 years time we can completely change and manipulate the sex where we can in the future be full male one day and the next female. We all take gender for granted, like we were given that gender for a reason and we can't do nothing about it. I know it will be hard to find someone who accepts you. But that's not the only big thing that goes on in your life, what about work, vacations, parties and all these different activities, it's not all just about sex and whether if I have the right genitalia. Life isn't all fixated on that, and people now a days need to understand that, that the whole we live in is more capable at making our dreams come true. But honestly I don't know how my life will be on 5 or 10 years time, I guess I'll just have to wait and find out.	Transgender	Transexuality	1/234	0.427

ZG9 I know this is an old comment but give yourself some time and just do what your mom wants until you're old enough to earn your own money. I always have been a tomboy and even had such irregular periods that I thought that I didn't even know what it's like to be an actual girl . However, as I got older, I realise that you don't have to exclusively act girly to be feminine. I'm still not stereotypically feminine but I'm sure now that I'm a woman regardless. If it were up to me to make a decision when I was younger, I probably would have wanted to be a boy. i think on my modest opinion that your parents are right,listen to them it's a REALLY HUGE BIG DEAL to change your part of your identity (gender name) in a such young age as you as you say i want to be the oppsite sex but you didn't think about what you really need to be that is important. some people have a serious mental illness that is called gender dysophira(search about it) and who have it will never be good untill they be transgender they need this to be good,to be normal,to have normal life and normal brain so after all of this do really have a SERIOUS mental illness that you can't live or act normal untill you change your gender? or it just a feel that you have inside you? feelings is a not a strong reason to do it as most of the youtubers do it because they just feel that they are not that person who they really are that's another issue that will not been recovered by transitioning after 6 years if you still have this issue then go ahead no one will judge you but now it's just puberty and hormones that missing around our brains in some periods be strong and hold on i wish i didn't upset you with my opinion and wish you luck	Transgender	Transexuality	1/226	0.442
https://youtu.be/jDIrnp2iNJU watch this it's about de-transition and people in your age that go back to their original gender after trans	Age	Age	1/20	5.0

I would wait till you're 18. Your mother is right, quite a lot of people have transitioned and want to turn back which is extremely problematic. I fully support people that are coming out and transitioning but doing so at such an early age is again, very, problematic.	Age	Age	1/48	2.083
When I was 4 years old, I wanted to be a boy. But my mother would not let me cut it short. I used to have it cut to as short as a typical girl's haircut could go: at the chin. I was persistent at first, but my mother still did not let up. So I had no choice, I gave up and decided to grow it long. Eventually, I started to like my longer hair and came to appreciate my femininity more and more as I grew older. I lost the desire to become a boy and just accepted my physical gender as a girl. If my mother had let me cut my hair short, I wonder if I would identify as male now. I know that this is the wrong youtube page to be posting this kind of story, but I just had the urge to share and maybe let someone who felt like becoming the opposite gender at some point in their life, but ended up deciding to remain their physical gender, know that they are not alone. Not everyone who has the desire to be the opposite gender at some point will neccesarily follow through with their wish.	Old	Over 65s	1/202	0.495

Nothing like this was even possible even less then 100 years ago. lets not be in denial, Lets be objective, its im not stating an opinion, but injecting testosterone into the blood stream is NOT natural, that is why in the body building community, someone that takes steroids (steroids is synthetic testosterone) is said about him that he is not a natural body builder that is a term that is commonly used. Playing devil's advocate here bro, they say that the fact that gender is a social construct, and is different from sex which is a biological construct. They believe gender is separate and is not fixed to chromosomes and sex. Some even go as far and say that the traditional male female structure of genders are merely social constructs.	Sex	Gender	1/58	1.724
That's what they mean, the role in society is a social construct. The argument is that we should do away with the gender binary since it is a social construct and biology is something separate entirely from what someone wants to identify as. This, combined with the gender fluid idea is something I am sceptical about. The scientific and medical findings for this is dubious to say the least.	Gender	Gender	1/69	1.449

You really should not ask questions like this. It's disrespectful to intrude someone's privacy that way. I understand your curious but it's rude. Some guys do not ever get surgery for a penis and some do. Some never get boobs removed and some do. Because he was a girl,you see,a girl produces way less testosterone than a man,so,of course the hormonal receptors of the hair follicles will react way more erasier to more testosterone since they used toreact for way smaller doses of testosterone,that's why you have a man like me who can atract even animal with his pheromones,and have sex over 6 times a day and yet,I don't have a lot of hair,it's all thanks to genes in a way,and the heterosomes since those designate genders,kinda,they should usually,but....you know....transgender people are a thing. No, we you start getting hair loss...you reduce the testoserone dosage....its not a male precaution...haha Why because your diet also affects your hormones and level of activity etc. As we age, a lot changes....including sensitivity or lack of to hormones....so I wouldn't blame it all on testosterone nor would I give it all the credit..look at the males in your family and see how their natural testosterone works for them. And as you as and increase level of activity or not...your feet will grow again....so it's not all hormones. So what can we do for feet....sleep once a week or twice in the recumbant position (only your legs...keep your back flat as normal)..that means with your knees elevated...and perhaps a bolster underneath your knees or a pillow... Next stretch your feet out...everyday or several times per week or your clogging honey man..or man honey...that means your toes are not getting exercised nor relaxed because you dont stretch them out.... Where comfortable sneaker with arch support if you need it...walking around flat footed all day is not good for posture..etc... Do rub down your feet with a little Suave Advance Therapy....something that is water soluble and will hydrate your skin...and perhaps so some very low impact aerobic....why....you don't want to ruin your joints...everything in your body takes a joint and articulation...so if you're not working out you are not engaging your circulation and if you over do it you can ruin your joint....and well winter is on the way....hormones are very temperamental and come with a threshold...I think during the summer you reduce the load and during winter you get off the hormones temporarily...something like that... You also dont want to assume men dont have any

Kevin Andersson If God assigned it to him, why did he also give him body dysmorphia, ie, the desire to change genders and look like a man. Why would God make some people attracted to the same sex if it's wrong? Why would God even care what we do with our bodies, as long as we are being good people? Why would God care that this person decided to take testosterone to become stronger and look like a man, seeing as it doesn't really change his moral character. I don't know, it sounds like you're speaking for God. Maybe this is just what you think, and perhaps God would prefer you to let people overcome the hurdles he has put into their lives without making it all the more difficult. After all, it is THEIR life, and being rude to transgender people doesn't make YOU a better person, Mr. Andersson.	Transgender	Transexuality	1/150	0.667

In Michigan, my son has to go through specific criteria in order for him to take hormone blockers and T. He's almost 15 and must see a therapist to determine whether or not he can emotionally handle the changes etc. Did you take hormone blockers before T or didn't you need that? Without uploads here, I would probably a little unprepared for F2M transition. My knowledge is from M2F trans women, except for the effects of medication on emotions. I can't wait to see my son bloom into the body he was supposed to have. I'm legally changing his name. Nicole G. I'm glad people like you and your son exist. My parents seem to have a hard time accepting my gender as more than just a phase, I wish it were easier.	Gender	Gender	1/33	3.03

Adrian D. I'm so sorry. Remember, your parents have to grieve the loss of the old gender you. To be honest my son's dad still hopes this isn't a phase he wakes up from and regrets it. That concern is from a place of love. He doesn't want his child to suffer through the changes and have it be a massive mistake that can't be undone. He wants to protect his child from pain out of love. He has to learn his SON didn't make this decision on a whim. He remembers the Daddy-Daughter dances, the little girl who twirled around in dresses I made, his first-born baby girl he held minutes after birth—giving her her first bottle feeding. And yes, there are the closed-minded parents that say, God doesn't make mistakes. My reply always is, Then why are there handicapped/disabled children in the world? If He can create those children for a reason, who is to say what God has in store for transgender children?	Transgender	Transexuality	1/166	0.602
Nicole G. Thank you for your words. I understand it's difficult for my parents since they can't imagine what having gender dysphoria feels like and I can't blame them for that, but I do blame them for seeming to not acknowledge my tries to explain myself and simply my feelings. I hope it'll all get better eventually.	Gender	Gender	1/57	1.754

Adrian D. I hope so too. My son cries every time he has a menstrual cycle because it reminds him his body isn't right. In Michigan, most doctors won't prescribe T for anyone under 18 and must have a letter written in a specific way from a therapist stating they're emotionally ready. It helps fight against malpractice. Unfortunately, none of this helps my son. I can feel his emotional anguish. It breaks my heart every time and I fight that much harder for him. One day, perhaps if you have children, you'll realize you're just as strong for them as you are right now. And they will be better for it.	doctors	Nationality	1/112	0.893
Nicole G. this is late but i just read this comment, and im about to turn 16. I'm on blockers right now. and if the therapist thinks the person is ready you can get T at 16. 16 is the youngest age you can get T in Michigan not 18 lol	Age	Age	1/51	1.961

Hi, Im 28 years old, been mostly in the closet about F2M my entire life, as in I can remember being confused about my gender as young as the age of 6, but it wasn't something anyone ever talked about when I was a kid, and it's certainly not something I can expose the majority of my family to. Just wanted to say keep fighting! You're amazing! If I had Parents like you, things would have been different! I have a son now, 12 years old, and from the day he was born, the only thing I wanted him to feel was love, and to teach him to love others regardless of what some people may label as abnormal. Aly M Hi! Yes, I started telling/explaining to them around age 7 or 8 what gay meant, the difference between cross-dressing and transgender, how calling someone tranny, fag, dyke was just as bad as calling someone retard or the n word. The dialogue continued from there. I think I always knew my eldest was different from the 3rd grade which is why I stressed at an early age, everyone should be treated with the same respect no matter how different and I'd love them no matter what. Next week my son's dad and I are taking him to Lurie children's hospital in their gender issues dept to try and get hormones for him. I'm from the Kalamazoo area! This is disgusting, making your child go through genital mutilation and your children's mental issue will only WORSEN as they get older eventually leading to depression or even suicide. There is no such thing as a happy transgender, they may put on a smile but they are dying on the inside. What you should do is make your kid go to therapy to get over their crazy mindset and in a year or two when they do eventually get over it (hopefully) they will be a MUCH happier human being and thank God that they didn't go through a irreversible surgery that would ruin their social life. Any parent who makes their child go through this and they think they are helping, just know your doing the OPPOSITE, society might tell you your doing the right thing, but when is society ever right? like 10 of the time maybe? Kitterz hi, you are one of the most positive example of supportive parents i ever saw. 3 i m very happy that u support your son, i wish my parents would do the same. I'm 16, and a ftm transgender. Whenever i try ti express my feeling out to my parents they reject it and say it s phase. I hate it so much and it makes me very angry , depressed and sad. I often have suicide thoughts because i realise, in my country there is no hope for transgender people. They are being considered alot of negative things and they see our problem as a mental disability so they treat us like we are sick . :/ . Idk how i m gonna keep this up. I have no family to support me , and that matter s the most to me. Idk...	Transgender	Transexuality	1/145	0.69

If it was for a long time there would be a lot to think about because most guys who have been on it for years have had their woman organs removed so they will have no hormones at all causing a lot of emotional issues. In regards to facial hair. It'll come. When I was your age, it grew slowly. Once you hit your 20s, the facial hair will start growing more and at a faster rate. Before you know it, shaving once a month becomes once a week and once a week becomes everyday. Enjoy the clean face while it lasts.	Age	Age	1/57	1.754

Bits of Laurie it's irrelevant whether Benton is cis or not. other than being reliant on a whole range of genetic and dietary factors, facial hair and DHT binding does actually have positive correlation to your age, thus you get more facial hair as you get older, and your hairline recedes as you age, whether you are a cisgender man or a transman on HRT.	Age	Age	1/65	1.538
Okay, I stand corrected: it's irrelevant in Benton's case because he started HRT around 17? I'm not actually sure. In any case his 'second puberty' follows a similar pattern to a cis man's and as I said the effects of DHT on his hair follicles will become stronger with age (hence more facial hair once he'll be in his 20s). Obviously the effects of T are way different if you start HRT in your 40s. Most start in their 20s or even as soon as they hit 18, though.	Age	Age	1/89	1.124
louman-eightyfour It might not come - without being braggy and insensitive, I have glorious 5 o'clock shadow. But one of my best friends struggles to grow more than about 3 facial hairs and we're both in our late 20's - biology is weird.	Weird	Physical (and Mental) Impairments	1/43	2.326

AND HERE I AM AT A YEAR ON T WITH ZERO FAT REDISTRIBUTION AHAHAHAHAHAHA I'M SO SAD	Zero	Youngsters	1/17	5.882
Benton did u loose but/thigh fat????	Fat	Physical Features	1/6	16.667

If anyone is interested, this problem did get solved for me. The thing about fat redistribution is that it's not actually the body fat you already have moving location, it's that testosterone signals your body to place new fat in your body differently, be more okay with losing fat in the ass/hips/thigh area, and overall makes it easier to have a lower body fat percentage (along with this, the broadening of your upper body can do a ton of help and offsetting the disproportionate largeness of hips). So after you start T, over time, because you burn and place down very small amounts of fat from day to day, you will eventually have a noticeable amount of fat redistribution, but it will be very gradual. If you work on losing body fat in general, this will go much quicker, and will be much more attainable than pre-t. My problem was that I was gaining body fat the whole time (I put on about 15 pounds from starting to 1 year on T), so my body never had a chance to burn that old fat, because I was never at a caloric deficit, not even the typical, very small one that would allow redistribution very gradually. And even if my body was placing down more fat in my stomach area, T doesn't mean you will completely stop putting fat in your ass/hips all together. So the stuff I was gaining that was added to what I already had. Since I made this comment, I have lost weight and finally have hips smaller than pre-T, and I'm so fucking happy about it. What it took was tracking what I ate, eating at a caloric deficit to lose body fat, and doing it consistently. It'd be awesome if T just took care of all the work for you, but it doesn't. If your dysphoria is bad enough though, the work is totally worth it.	Old	Over 65s	1/321	0.312

Gabryela Tomio Please PLEASE don't resort to suicide. There are people who care. The internet has change the game for trans and LGBTQ youth as far as support and information goes because there are people out there that want to help and share information. I always read some of the comments Benton gets and so many trans kids out there and so many of you are feeling isolated and alone but once you start to leave comments you can make connections with people. IT GETS BETTER....it really does. The teenage years are the worst for any kid and add being trans or gay and it is amped up because other kids are cruel but won't always be around those people and you will be in a position to advocate for yourself. Call the The Trevor Project or other suicide hotline if you feel like you getting too close to actually going through with it. Do you have someone you can talk to? Matthew G Your comment has touched me deeply and I have been trying to come up with something profound to respond but the reality is that your situation is horrific. Nobody should be rejected, but I know that far too many kids are. The saddest part is that trans kids need the most love and support because a transition has to be one of the most difficult things to go through at an age that is pretty crappy for most kids without confounding factors like being rejected by family, having no support system and the issues and bullying that come with transition. Don't give up. Hope is crucial in so many facets of life, including where you are. I promise that if you want to chat over email I will be here for you. If you are interested you can email me at daneeekaps gmail.com. Depending on the doctor, younger FtMs can be put on blockers as a stepping stone or a permanent thing. MtFs, since testosterone is such an active hormone, need to be on anti-androgens along with estrogen until the testes are removed (if ever). I, as a 19 yr old FtM, have had one doctor recommend me to take hormone blockers with T, and have two other doctors try to regulate with just my T dose.	Old	Over 65s	1/74	1.351

Connor Garst Thanks so much for answering me. I tried to look it up but couldn't find a definitive answer. I guess in your case, you could see if T alone does enough and if not you could take an estrogen blocker. Ideally younger kids could get on blockers and avoid the severe dysphoria associated with puberty. But it's tough enough to talk about trans issues when you are older, I can't imagine an 8 year old trying to advocate for themselves. I'm sure there are situations with parents who are accepting from a young age but for so many of you it just isn't possible and it breaks my heart. I hope someday we can be more accepting as a society. People like you and Benton, who are advocating and speaking out on YouTube and blogs are making a difference.	Old	Over 65s	1/141	0.709
Danee Kaplan Thank you very much :) There are youth out there that start to medically transition before puberty through hormone blockers, though it's very uncommon, especially in the US. I have seen it happen, however, it's more common with MtFs for some reason. But yes, you have the jist of it. People in the community are trying to lobby for trans youth to give their own consent at a younger age, but I don't see it happening any time soon.	Transition	Transexuality	1/81	1.235

Connor Garst Yes, we have a long way to go before everyone understands that transGENDER has nothing to do with SEX...that trans individuals are not sexual perverts or deviants, they aren't pedophiles and they aren't motivated by the desire to spend time in the women's bathroom. I am not sure what one would see in the women's bathroom, but Michelle Duggar seems to think that is the reason someone would desire to change their gender. That said, there is precedence for minors having authority to make medical decisions without parental consent and that is regarding reproductive health care. In the US-all 50 States- youths are emancipated for decisions regarding birth control, STD diagnosis and treatment and all prenatal care. I don't know about other countries but I will say that contrary to popular belief the US does not have the most progressive medical care so I suspect other countries have this as well. OleoBlog My son loathes his breasts. I knew he was either trans or had some sort of body image issues at age 12. It wasn't until age 13-1/2 when I gave him the name, transgender, that he started to understand why he hated his body. He has the equivalent breast size of a large C-cup bra. (He also has scoliosis). When he went through puberty, I bought him chest binders from Underworks. I hope you can get hormone blockers before you need to bind. In our family, the females have lower-pitched voices.
